

2019 Tickborne Disease Prevention Poster Contest

Do you like to color, draw, or design?
Help us prevent tick bites!

The Minnesota Department of Health and the Bell Museum are hosting a poster contest for school-age kids. Submit a catchy and creative design for a chance to win admission tickets and other fun prizes!

1. Create a poster that encourages healthy outdoor fun and tick bite prevention. Include at least one of the following:

- Ticks don't fall from trees
- Bug spray keeps ticks away
- Tick check yourself before you wreck yourself

2. Ask your parent to fill out and sign a submission form (either below or online).

3. Take a picture, scan, or upload a file of your poster here: www.health.state.mn.us/diseases/tickborne

Or, mail your poster and submission form to:

Minnesota Department of Health
Attn: Jenna Bjork (IDEPC – OLF 3B)
625 North Robert Street
PO Box 64975
Saint Paul, MN 55164-0975

Submissions must be postmarked by Friday, May 10, 2019.

Winners will be notified and posted on our website by May 31, 2019.
